The wound is a very severe one. Dr. Hudson, of Ryde, was promptly in attendance, and under his care the young lad is progressing favourably.

NEW ZEALAND.

NEW ZEALAND.

By way of Melbourne we have received intelligence of the 23rd December.

During the firing at the matches, at Drunchin, one of the members, named Angus Mackay, had his tace slightly cut in several places, through small pieces of the bullets glancing off the target as he sat watching the shots in the house behind the earthworks. It is a somewhat curious fact that even those scratches, light as they appeared, were more than Mackay experienced during all the Crimean campaign, and he was present as one of the Royal Artillery Corps at many of the principal engagements there, including the Alma, Inkerman, and the several sieges of Sebastopol.

At Auckland, City West, only Sir George Grey and Dignan were nominated, and both were declared by the returning-officer duly elected. Sir George Grey apole at length upon the tendencies of centralism towards corruption, as shown throughout its history. Sir George Grey argued to show that the whole tendency of the legislation of the last Parliament was to elevate and enrich the present wealthy classes against the interests of the usas of the people. He urged all electorates to elect only those who would pledge themselves to insist on a reform of land transactions, the adjustment of taxation, the dealing with runs so that all might have an equal chance, the election of unembers for three years, and an alteration in the constitution of the Legislative Council. He considered the Act of Indeanity passed last session should be repealed, as that overy case might be inquired into, and where penaltics had been awarded under the Disqualification Act as echo members as were returned to the new Parliament should be expelled. The Cyphrenes arrived at Auckland on the 20th December, was repaired at once, and left at 7.30 for Kandavau. The Government inspector only heensed her to go there, not through to San Francisco.

The Thames Naval Rowing Club, Grabanotowu, have decided to rend a crew to the Wellington Interprovinctal Regatta and two boats—one to centest for the ohampion—the of the steamer Tui to run across twice cach way every wenty-four hours till the cable is repaired, at a subsidy of £25 per day.

The Wealth of Nationa' Quartz Mming Company, at Inaugalua, near Greymouth, while driving in the lower tunnel, to strike the present reef, struck two new reefable first at 60 feet in the tunnel, the second at 102 feet; the latter showing the best specimens of rough gold everen in the district.

A house occupied by Henry Cutler, on the Riccarton Road, two miles from Christchurch, was broken into, and £300 stolen. Cutler was severely filt-treated until he became quiet. Cutler, who objected to bank his money, always kept a large sum in the house. This was well-known in the district. There is no clue to the thieves.

The ninth annual show of the Agricultural and Pastorit Association at Invercargill proved a great success. Three thousand people were present. The number of exhibits was 415.

HONOLULU.

Files have been received of the Haweiton Gazette to the 17th November, from which we take the following extracts:

Ris Excellency Richard H. Stanley, who has filled the office of Attorney-General since May, 1874, died at his residence in Hotel-street, on the 5th November, after an illness of three weeks. He came to these islands in 1858 from Sacramento, California, where his wife now resides. His father resides in New York, and he had relatives living also in Brooklyn and Chicago. His funeral was attended in Monday, and his remains, under a military exect, were taken to Nunanu Cemetery, where they are deposited in a tomb awaiting the instructions of his relatives in America.

The Mikado made a rum from Sydney to Honolulu in twenty days, the same time as that of the City of Melbourne on haw last trip up. There being but little freight he remained in port only eight hours, leaving in the evening. She had less then the usual number of passengers.

The basque R. C. Wylfe, long and favourably known as not of the Bremen and Honolulu line of paskets, came in with her usual punctuality on October 24, 118 days from London, bringing a full carge of assorted merchandies to Messas. Hackfeld and Co., and others. Her last voyage from lequin (Peru) to England was made in the remarkably short time of 70 days—the shortest ever known letween the two places. Her present captain, Walters, was formerly chief officer under Haltermann, who have noted the service of the German Government.

But Revyel Highness Princess Miriam L. Clephorn, wife of the Hon. A. S. Cleghorn, gave birth to a daughter on the 10th October. This is the first birth that has occurred in the present royal family since the accession.

On Saturday last, Mr. Barlow sold at auction "all the right, title, and interest of the Board of Education in the Ahunuan of Walkapu." This tract of land includes what is known as the isthmus connecting West and East Maui, and stretching from Manlane Bay to Kahului, supposed to contain 14,000 acres, or over twenty square m

MR. JAMES MANNING'S WATER SCHEME.

MR. JAMES MANNINGS WATER SCHEME.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE MEHALD.

Six.—I should indeed be sorry to discourage Mr. Manning, or attempt to throw any discredit upon his project for subplying Sydney and its suburbs with pure water; but I think I shall render him a service if I point out some errors in his calculations.

Mr. Manning twice says that his proposed reservoir will hold six billions of gallons of water, when he obviously means, what his figures capress, six thousand millions of gallons. But a surface area of 600 acres with a depth of thirty first will only hold 24,900,800 cmbic yards of water, on at 168 gallons to the cubic yard, 4,065,600,000 (four thousand millions) of gallons. It would require 750,000 acres covered by water to the depth of thirty feet to give six billions of gallons; although, even then, as I have shown he has miscalculated the storage capacity of his intended ake.

As a have said, Mr. Manning must mean six thousand sillions of gallons; although, even then, as I have shown he has miscalculated the storage capacity of his intended ake.

he has miscalculated the storage capacity or make.

Assuming that Mr. Manning's other data are correct, such a reservoir would supply, for daily consumption for twelve months, not 18,000,000 gallons as he states, but only about 11,000,000 gallons of pure water. If, however, the watenshed of the proposed Lake Loddon will only fill it ones to two years, as Mr. Manaing indicates, it is evident that and more than 5,600,000 gallons can be drawn from it overy day; and not that quantity, if any allowance is to be made for examples.

I am not easy resend in hydraulics, but, unless I have greatly misapproperated afficient to induce him to reconsider his constants.

THE LATE CASE OF BURNING AT SHEPHERD'S

PADROLA.

On Saturday afternoon the City Coroner held an inquest at the Victoria Park Hotel, Myrile-street, on the hodies of David Henry Jones and Agnes Rebecca Jones.

The following witnesses were examined:

David Jones deposed: The deed bodies just viewed by him were those of his children, named David Henry Jones, sged three years, and Agnes Rebecca Jones, aged nine mouths; he works at the Distillery, in Parramata-street.

Dr. Renwick deposed: He was called to see an infant named Agnes Rebecca Jones, who was suffering from shock, the consequence of several burns on the head, face, and arms; the child was in an almost helpless condition, and died on the foremoon of the 31st December, 1875; he was satisfied that the burns, which were not of severe character, did not occasion the death; the immediate came of death was the shock to the system.

Charlotte Ann Jones deposed: Hhe resides at No. 63, Shepherd-street, with her husband; the deceased were her children; she had occasion to leave home on last Wednesday morning at three minutes to 8 o'clock to go to the Distillery with her husband's breakfast; she left at home her children; she had occasion the floor in the front room; the boy David was in his cot upstains asheep; they were the only persons in the house when she left; she only closed the door; before leaving she took all the wood out of the fire-place and extinguished the fire, only leaving a few but shae in the fire-place; there was a good height, and the children could not reach it unless they got on a chair; she returned home in about a quarter of an hour, and found that during het absence there had been a fire in the house; and upon searching she found her children had been burnt; they were shortly after taken to the Infirmary; she looked and saw that the matches she left in the tin box were still there; she found that the fire was contined to the bedroom in which she had left the boy; there were no matches in that room; she was quite certain she took the precauti

To the clergy of the diocese of Sydney.

St. Matthias's, January 1, 1876.

My Lord,—I have received your lordship's direular to the clergy, referring to the liberty which I have used, and which the Church of England allows me, of preaching to a congregation of Weeleyans. I trust I shall not be considered disrespectful if in acknowledging the circular I make some comment on its contents, which are calculated to surprise and pain a number of Christian people, as the expression of a Bishop so highly esteemed shed deeply loved, who himself has taken part in services not cast in the mould of the Church liturgy, and presided over by ministers of other denominations.

Your lordship declines to discuss the question, which has been ventilated for years both in England and here, and which has been illustrated by the conduct of the Queen, of the Primate, and of most eminent dignitaries and presbyters of our Church both in Scotland and America, and by the best legal opinions specially evoked but without discussion you simply disapprove of "Au

England so far as they are applicable. These laws precible that within a cortain territorial limit a pre-bying fact all not do a certain thing, but outside that limit elevation free to do it. Both as law and rule they forbid—both as aw and rule they allow.

Your lordship well remarks that, "When the Bishop of Capedow a deprived Mr. Long of his license, for disobedishmeto his injunctions, his judgment was set aside because he had condended Mr. Long for an effonce which was not an flene against the laws of the Church of England. The Age of Thursday remarks:—The lesson taught us by the result of the Intercolonial Cricket Match hotween Victoria and New South Wales, vesterday, is one which all experience teaches. It is that, with individuals is with States, constant success has a natural tendency to imprire false confidence. Prior to Christmas of last year sixteen matches had been played by the two colonies, and of those Victoria had won no less than twalve, six out of that twolve being successive victories; and the question came to be seriously discussed here whether it was worth while continuing the matches except at odds. Trus however, to their Anglo-Saxon descent, defeast never for one moment made the cricketers of New South Wales waver, and, though defeated match after match, they still came up smilling, and with "a desporate desire and a resolute endeavour" is compass the defeat of their opponents. Last season saw Victoria put into the field what was considered at the time one of the strongest, to move the surprise of all the knowing once both here and in Sydney, the result was an easy victory for this colony but, to the surprise of all the knowing once both here and in Sydney, the result was an easy victory for New South Wales. A return match—in accordance with the irrungement arrived at in settling the dispute that had arisen through the lapsing of the previous season's instoh in consequence of the visit of the English eleven—was then played in Sydney in March, and again was our eleven the equal of the one that played in Melbuurne) easily defeated. A double defeal in one season, after a succession of victories, by a few short were sestinged. Finally, want of practice tagether was settled upon as attendancy, and accordancy in Sydney with soch other. But this was only determined upon not carried out; and whilst our Match Committee was trying to make up its mind, and pleking, and choosing, and changing, the New South Wales players—were at work, and not only did they play together in Sydney he fore coming here, but they had the advant

THE PROPOSED SITES FOR PUBLIC SCHOOLS BILL.

THE PROPOSED—SITES POR PUBLIC SCHOOLS BILL.

To all who take an interest in the education question, it is well known that the Council of Education labours under great disadvantages, and neets with increasing difficulties and delays from the want of power to obtain sites for echools. With the view of giving the Council the requisite power, a draft bill has been prepared to give greater facilities for the acquisition of sites for Public schools and school-buildings. The first, second, and third sections propose to give the Council the power of selecting from any Crown lands not dedicated to any other public parpose, so the extent of—for town lands, 1 acre; suburban lands, 5 acres; and lands elsewhere situated, 20 acres. The Chiurch and School lands are also to be open to selection. In case any selected land is under lease, then compensation is to be given to the lease. The ninth and tenth sections would empower the Council to take up private lands, and great compensation. The principle on which the bill was framed, and its leading details, are set forth in a letter conveyfing a draft copy to the Minister for Public Instruction, with a request that the Government would be ploused to introduce the measure into Parliament. The third, fourth, and fifth paragraphs of the letter read as follows:—"3. With respect to the proposed selection of Crown lands. the Council would submit that the absolute power of veto, which is reserved by the bill, will afford ample protection in the hands of the Government sagainst undestrable appropriations. The same suggestion applies equally to the Church and School linds; but the object will be attained after the expiration of nixty days for purposes of inquiry, of enabling the Council to commence the rection of school buildings on the land selected, without the great disay attendant on a formal survey and the issue of a grant. The existing temporary occupiers on the other hands will be compensated for the loss of their holdings, a loss, considering the minor and the second property asso

TO THE EDITOR OF THE HERALD. SIR,—Observing that Mr. Russell solicits information from private persons which might throw any light on the portedical state of the weather prior to 1840, I enclose the herewith table. I have copied it from one of my scraps. In one paragraph the writer, Thomas Carter, says, "This table one paragraph the writer, Thomas Carter, says, "This table was, for the most part, prepared by Dr. Jevons, and I extracted it from a document in the Sydney Observatory." The rest of his excellent observations may not be pertinent at present, alluding chiefly to the growth of gum trees in swamps, where there was no standing water for a period of fifteen years.

Captain Harry Blounfeld.

We, the underesigned passengers by the good skip pipers, he time now safely arrived at our destination, are leaving her to sum, her suptain, our releasement to you, her suptain, our The Sydney Morning Berald. TUESDAY, JANUARY 4, 1876.

> I it no never was a time when the experience ct our Victorian neighbours in the matter of iovermoental railway construction were mo deserving of our study, because what they of what we are about to do. The report of the Board of Lands and Works just issue although it only brings down the facts to the middle of last year, is full of interest and instruction for the members of our Legislature, and for the public at large.

In some respects this report is encouraging in others it is not so encouraging. The most decided success of the north-eastern line This line, beginning at Melbourne, and for which the Essendon line, which was a private speculation, had to be purchased, connects Hobson's Bay with the Murray at Wodonga opposite to Albury, and in the main takes the oute of the old Sydney road. Last year was the first year in which the whole line was opened throughout for traffic, and therefore it is the first year which gives a fair test of the profitableness of the project. It is highly satisfactory to observe that it not only cleared itself, but left a profit. The length of the line is 187 miles, and it cost a little less than £10,000 a mile. deducting the working expenses, which were less than 49 per cent. of the receipts, there was a gross profit of five per cent. on the whole of the capital sunk, and then this left a profit of nearly £24,000. This is the only line in Australia of such a length of which the same statement can be made. There is not one of our trunk lines which taken singly will clear itself, and it would seem that this north eastern line of Victoria is, with the exception of the first five miles of the railway out of Newcastle, the best paying railway in Australia. And if it pays now, when it has only been open for twelve months, it will pay still better hereafter, because it is part of the trunk line between Sydney and Melbourne and the traffic on it must increase when the wo capitals are united. Now that this success has been achieved, it is worth while to remember that before the ine was determined on there were politician in Victoria who wanted to discuss the ques tion in a local and not in a national spiritwho grumbled that more should be spent or he north-east than on the south-west or north-west-who wanted the money to be qually divided, and to have equal lengths in ifferent districts, and who, failing to win victory as to the question of length, wanted to make the line to Wodonga a light cheap railway, or even a horse-power railway, tather than see a million and three-quarters concentrated on accommodating one district. The Department and the Government, however, carried the day, and it was decided that the line should be a substantial and first-class one. That this decision was a wise one has now been amply verified by experience. The line is now burden at all on the revenue of the country on the contrary, it yields a profit. This is the more satisfactory because it does not pass through any very great towns. There ar Bellerats, or Castlemaines, or Sandhursts along the line of route, but there is a fair share of local traffic, while both the termin are important.

The other new railway extensions Victoria have not been so fortunate. The Government had to lay out lines to please several districts, and to go not towards impor-tent termini, but towards inland townships that were little more than local centres. The consequence is that here there are inferior

The Ballarat and Ararat line exhausts 70 per cent. of the receipts in working expenses, and leaves barely five thousand pounds of gross profit. The consequence is that it expenses absorb nearly 107 per cent, of the receipts, leaving a clear loss on the working of the line of over £400. The Ballarat and Maryborough line is not so bad as this, but it somewhat inferior to the other lin diverges from Ballarat. Here we find that the working expenses absorb more than 74 per cent. of the receipts, and leave a gross profit of about £4000, giving a return of nearly 24 per cent. on the invested capital. The loss on these three local lines goes to balance the gain on the north-eastern line; but if we put them all together the new works may be considered as paying.

The great drag on the general productive-ness of the Victorian railway capital is the enormous outlay that was incurred on the two trunk lines to Ballarat and Sandhurst. These were not only made in dear times, but were made with unnecessary expense. It has been proved now that single lines would have carried all the traffic, and carried it comfortably, and that making a double line was simply a waste of money. The consequence is that the cost of the Victorian railways is far higher than it need have The railway capital account stand altogether at thirteen millions and a-half. and on that large amount it seems impossib to get a paying dividend at present, Government has tried the policy of reducing the fares both of passengers and freights, which has resulted rather in a decrease than in an increase of the revenue. It is not necessary, however, to get interest on the whole amount, because it is not all borrowed money. Something was gained by the premium on debentures; something appropriated out of the current revenue; and nething has been accumulated since u the law by which £200,000 is set aside every year. The capital actually bearing interest is not much over twelve millions; but, looking at the whole capital sunk as an investment, the interest last year was not more than three and a quarter cent; and as the colony has on the average borrowed at five and a half per cent, the difference is so much direct loss, which has to be compensated by the indirect benefits of the railroads. This loss might have been sub-been unnecessarily incurred. Had the earlier tipes been constructed with reasonable economy, the railway investment of Victoria as a whole would have been a profitable one.

THE "Statistical Register" of New South Wales for 1874 is a document of more than ordinary interest, but really it is not creditable to our energy and pre-arrangement that it should be dated 28th September, 1875, and that its publication should not have taken place till the end of the year. The REGISTRAR-GENERAL expresses his regret that so much of the current year should have passed away before the publication of these statistics, and he states that the difficulty of obtaining returns appears to be increasing every year. This ought not to be. Our public departments are large and expensive. There is an impression they are not overworked, and we think that in regard to the compilation and publication of statistics generally there is great necessity for additional smartness. It is of very little public interest now to be informed how many marriages were celebrated in 1874, how many births were registered, or how many deaths were recorded. It is still more uninteresting to be told how many inmates there were in the Gladesville Asylum at the close of 1873, and what was the average attendance during 1874; or to be in-formed of minute particulars about other benevolent and charitable institutions when there are no means of comparing them with the state of things which has existed during the current year. This volume of statistics ought to have been placed in the hands of the public at least six months ago.

Preceding the report appears, for the first time, a return "showing the relative positions and aggregate importance of the Australasian colonies at the close of the year 1874." The REGISTRAR-GENERAL states that this return originated with his Excellency Sir Hercures ROBINSON, and that for two or three years it was compiled under his Excellency's direction. The Registran-General, has now taken upon himself the yearly preparation of this table, and it will be readily admitted that it forms "an important and interesting addition to the Statistical Register. It is added that the Government statist of Victoria has also adopted a table nearly corresponding to that now introduced as a new feature in our Statistical Register. Mr. HAYTER'S Australasian statistics are not quite so complete as those furnished by our own statistician, Mr. WARD. It seems that while some of the colonies furnished their returns with punctuality, others lagged behind, and in some cases important particulars were omitted for which it was necessary to wait. Mr. HAYTER takes a proper view of the importance of the early publication of the facts. He says: - "Being strongly impressed with the feeling that the interest and utility of statistical information of this character are materially added to by its early publication, I trust I shall not be considered as going beyond my province in respectfully urging that, if it be considered advisable to continue the publication of these statistics in future years, steps may be taken to impress upon the other colonies the desirability of making an effort to supply the information at an earlier period." If the various colonies make an effort to supply statistical information to each other early in each year the advantage will be mutual. Each colony may then have its own statistics before they have gone out of date, and be in a position to compare its progress and operations with those of its neighbours.

The following are some of the principal tigures in the return, showing the relative positions and aggregate importance of the Australasian colonies and New Zealand at the close of the year 1874. The population was: New South Wales, 584,278; Victoria, 808,437; South Australia, 204,623; Queensland, 163,517; Tasmania, 104,176; Western Australia, 20,200 ; New Zealand, 341,860 : total, 2,233,100.

The revenue of 1874 was: - New South Wales, £3,509,966; of which £1,217,401 was raised by taxation at the rate of £2 1s. 8d. per head; Victoria, £4,106,790 (the year in this case ended 30th June), of which £1,896,842 was raised by taxation at the rate of £2 7s. 6d. per head, the calculation being r head; Queensland, £1.160,947. which £586,157 was raised by taxation at the rate of £3 11s. 8d. per head; Tasmicuia, £327,925, of which £215,233 was raised by taxation at the rate of £2 ls. 3d. per head: Western Australia, £148,074, of which £82,275 was raised by taxation at the rate of £3 2s. 9d. per head ; New Zealand, £3,063,811, of which £1,294,276 was raised by taxation at the rate of £3 15s. 8d. per head. The total revenue of the whole of the colonies for 1874 was £13.321.332 of which only £5,062,623 was raised by taxation at the average rate of £2 3s. 11d. per head. It will be seen from the foregoing tigures that the rate of taxation per head of the population is less in New South Wales than in any of the other colonies except Tasmania and South Australia; that New Zealand is the most heavily taxed, that Queensland is next.

Western Australia next, and Victoria next. The public debt in 1874 was as follows New South Wales, £10,516,871, or £17 19s.
11d. per head of the population; Vistoria, £12,485,433, or £15 13s. per head; South Australia, £2,389,750, or £11 13s. 6d. per head; Queensland, £5,253,286, or £32 2s. 6d. per head; Tasmania, £1,476,700, or £14
3s. 6d. per head; Western Australia, £119,000, or £4 10s. 9d. per head; New Zealand, £13,366,936 or £39 2s. per head; making a total of £45,607,476, or an average of £19 6s. 5d. per head. It is added, in the case of the New Zealand public debt, that at the end of December last the sinking fund amounted to £958,000.

The value of the imports for 1874 to all the ustralasian colonies was £44,937,313, or at the rate of £18 5s. 6d. per head of the popula-tion. The value of the exports for the same period was £42,901,460, or at the rate of £18 5s. 2d. per head. The total value of trade imports and exports—was £87,838,772, or at the rate of £36 10s. 8d. per head of the population.

In regard to railways: New South Wales had 401; miles open, and 285; in course of construction; Victoria had 588 open, and only 65 in course of construction; South Australia had 234 miles open, and 142 in course of construction. Queensland had 249 miles open. and 106 in course of construction. Tasmania mitted to with a very good grace if it had bad 45 miles open, and 1211 in course of connect been for the fact that so much of it had struction by a private company under a guarantee of 5 per cent. on £650,000 for thirty guarantee of 5 per cent. on 2000,000 for thirty years. Western Australia had 30 miles open, and 35 in course of construction. New Zealand had 309 miles open, and 621 in course of construction. So that the whole of the Australasian colonies had 1756 miles of rail-Australasian coronies used 1700 miles of rail-way open, and 1376 in course of construction. We had also 7449 miles of telegraph open, and 426 in course of construction. The and 426 in course of construction. The total length in all the colonies was 22,175 miles open, and 3487 in course of construc-

We had not so many acres of land under cultivation as Victoria, South Australia, or New Zealand, but in regard to live stock we far outstrip all the colonies. We had nearly twice the number of horses that were to be found in Victoria; three times the number of cattle, and more than twice the number of sheep; our figures being—horses, 346,691; cattle, 2,856,690; sheep, 22,872,882; and pigs, 219,958. The number of acres under cultivation in all the colonies was 5,186,993; the number of horses in all the colonies was 869,309; the number of cattle 5,993,937; the number of sheep 61,084,127, and the number of pigs 668,134.

These figures are deeply interesting, and we imagine that it would puzzle any one to point out any two and a quarter million of people who have finer prospects, or a more splendid inheritance.

Torontager Procession at Balmain,-The But ain Fig Company created quite a sensation in that date on New Year's Kyr. The members of that company and a tarthlight procession, and paraded up and down Darmur-street with some 600 youngsters at their hools, the effair was a great success.

ALLEGED GARROTTING .- George Spencer, of Charles of Carlinorthic.—Coorge Spencer, of Citt street, Waterloo, has reported to the police that about half-past II o'clock on Saturday night he was assaulted by wen incen, not far from his own house, and robbed of beween 550 and £50 in bank notes. Two men are in cascody on the charge, and prosecutor not being able to attend, hey were remanded for a week.

DEATH FROM HANGING .- A man about 60 PEATH PROS HANGING.—A man about 60 years of age, named James Burns, a tailor, hanged himself resterday, at his residence, Riley-street, Woolloo-aced o. He was in the watch-house on Saturday night, locked up for drunkenness, and was bailed out for his spearance yesterday at the Police Court. On going to his room that morning, Burns was found deed, hanging by his neck by a rope. The body was out down, and it was then that lite was found to be extinct.

ACCIDENT .- Yesterday evening a Woolloo-MCHERT.— I esterday evening a Woolloo-mocke omnibus came to a standstill at the foot of Booneerang-street, through one of the hind whoels dropping off. It appears that the atlettee broke owing to the joiting of the 'bus on the loose metal that covers the street at that particular place. Several passengers inside and on top of the omnibus happily escaped unhurt: and the vehicle itself was only slightly densaged. The Corporation might surely find the means to blind the metal on a thoroughfare so much frequented.

CAUTION TO BATHERS IN THE PARBAMATTA RIVER.—Mr. R. M. Berroun, of Gladesville, caught on Statuckay a very large blue shark of the following dimensions:—12 feet 4 inches in length; width of mouth when open. I foot 3 inches; width across be ck of the head, 2 feet 2 inches. The method of capture was as follows:—At the end of a long kellick line was fastened a shark hook and chain, batted with stripe of flesh cut from the flagpers of a fiddler, the other end of the line was madenated to buoy, the line well-stretched and dropped. Haif-anhour after doing this the buoy was rushed through the water for some distance with fearful speed and disappeared, the shark becoming visible at the other end lashing the water furiously. Nothing was seen of the buoy again for its hours, when the shark becoming somewhat done up with his accompaniments, consisting of the buoy, several fathoms of a mooring-chain, and very heavy stone mooring, the buoy again appeared, but dragged very many yards from its old position. On towing the shark ashore he was followed the whole way even into shallow water by another fellow as big as himself. One look at his open mouth and formidable teeth would be quite sufficient to satisfy most people that "headers" into the river are not allogether safe with the chance of meeting such mousters as these.

HEARTLESS CONDUCT OF A CAPTAIN.—It is said, on very good authority, that, in the harbour on Christians-Day, an occurrence took place that showed most heartless conduct on the part of a captain of one of the Manly Heartless conduct on the part of a captain of one of the Manly Heartless is the particulars are those: One of the Manly Heartless of the Manly Bout 4 o'clock on the day mentifoned with a number of persons on board, and, when passing near Rose Bay, Mr. J. W. Smart, J.P., one of the gentlenses on the steamer, observed a skiff capsized, with three youths on it. M. Smart requested the captain to steep over and vescue them, but he refused to do so, saying that if he were always to rescue men on boats that were capsized he would have nothing cles to do. There was only one boat accident on Christmas Day, and that resulted in the loss of the life of a youth, sixteen years of age, named Benjamin Jones, so that there can be very little doubt in saying that Jones was one of those whom the man referred to might have saved.

HANDSOME CHUCKH FITTINGS, -- Messes. IIANDSOME CHUCHE FITTINGS.— Me-strs. Comstable and Turner have completed some handsome brass littings for All Saints' Church, Woollahra. First, there is a massive lectern of solid brass, elaborate and highly polished; then there are two brass standard lights, and six brass communion rails, also highly polished. The style is mediaval, and the workmanship occellent. The lectern is very large, and ouch standard will have ninelights. The whole of the fittings are most attractive pieces of church furniture. A NEW PIANO. - Mesars. Elvy and Co. have on view at their rooms a new description of piano, which has recently been introduced from America. It bears the brand of Meesre, Davies and Co., Boston. It differs in shape both from the ordinary pianos, and also from the grand pianos, being oblong. It is made of rosewood, and has seven-and-a-quarter octaves of keys. It has a fine metallic sound, and, altogether, appears to be an instrument of superior make.

LUCKY CHINANAN,-A Chinaman who was LUCKY CHINANAN.—A. Chinaman who was somewhat late in showing up for the Brisbane (a.) (writes the Cosktones Hereids) had the vary largest parce of gold taken away this last trip to Hongkong. It was done up in a long parcel, something life a Bologua saucage, and various conjectures were hazarded as to its weight. It was at length, in default of proper gold scales, placed on the rough iron scales used for weighing matso, &c., on the wharf, and with this rude machine the package turned the scale at 14; lbs. avoirdupois.

A MEASURE OF PRECAUTION.-We under-A MARKHER OF FREGUTION.—We understand that there have been several new cases of late of expensively which the Government have been obliged to admit into the temporary Hospital at Parmanata. A carriage has been provided, to be kept specially for the conveyance of such patients until a proper vehicle, which has been ordered, can be built. It is extremely desirable that persons suffering from such infectious disorders should not be conveyed in cabs or other vehicles used by the public.

REFUSING A PATENT.—The Attorney-General of Victoria has, in thematter of Postle's application for commissing apparatus, refused to grant letters patent. The applicant was opposed, as reported in the Argus of 21st. December, by Messas, Goby and Jambert, as patentees for Victoria of two-making machinery, of which they considered Practice to be an infringement or indisting.

Fire AT PARRAMATTA.—A fire took place on the night of the lat instant, which resulted in the destruction of the old unoccupied building, formerly the Globe Hotel, Sydney Read. The buildings adjacent to it were burnt a long while ago, and their ruins have ever aims been an unsightly unisone. The work of destruction being new complete, it is to be hoped a grand clearance of the rubbish will follow in due course. An inquest is to be held as to the origin of the fire.

The Late Mr. John Taylon.—The Deniliquin correspondent of the Riverine Herald gives the following account of the death of Mr. John Taylor:—One of the langest residents of the town and district came to a most untimely end on Boxing Day by being thrown from his horse and the animal falling upon him, causing instant death. The deceased man (Mr. John Taylor, late landlard of the Royal Hotel) was well known both in Riverina and Victoria: in fact, his name was publicly known throughout all Australia as a man who feared nothing; he knew not what danger was. At Boxing Day races deceased was clerk of the course, and it was his duty to keep it clear, and asso that no horseman cantered down the straight ruaning. Two men, however, were guilty of racing down the last half mile of the course. Taylor caught one of the men, who was tined. He then started at racing speed after the other man, and when he had gone some twenty yards his horse same into collision with another horse that happened to be time of one eye, when deceased was thrown with great force to the ground, his horse falling heavily upon him. The unfortunate man was only sensible for a few moments after the sad occurrence, and expired in about twesty minutes after he was thrown. The sad event caused a cloud of sorrow to pass over the place.

How to GET WELL AND KEEP WELL.—Some of our readers may remember a letter written to the Harald a few weeks ago apropos of a recent case of bunning, in which a freesing of whitning and oil was recommended as an almost infallible cure. The writer was the Rev. D. Turner, iste Head Master of the Royal Institution School of Liverpool, and who happened to be at the time in Sydney on a tour round the world. We have just received from the same writer, a copy of the seventh edition of his "Rules of Sumple Hygiene, or Hints and Remedies for the Treatment of Common Accidents and Diseases." In addition to his labours in the culture of mind, Dr. Turner seems to be used to be a culture of the body, and he has embodied the most useful portion of his knowledge in a popular form, in this little brochure, which though the work of a layman has been revised and corrected by seven eminent medical men, five of whom are hospital doctors in Loudon or Liverpool. The rules and remedies are printed in the form of a large sheet like an almanae, intended to be hung up in cottages for easy and frequent reference. It is a sort of publication likely to be very useful, and such a sheet would usefully fill a space on the wall of every bushnan's but in Australia, especially if revised in the light of Australias experience, and adapted to the Australian climate. Hundreds of lives might be saved, and hundreds of young constitutions might be prevented from premature ruin, if there were a wider diffusion of a knowledge of the simple laws of health and the simple remedies for ordinary diseases. Fertile Land.—As there is generally some difficulty in bring able to obtain land selections, suitable for agricultural purposes, within a reasonable distance of the centres of population throughout the colony, the following information, conveyed to the Murriariad Times on the lockout for land. About 15 miles from Wariada, and 25 miles from Inversil, on Myall Creek, our informant states, there is any quantity of splendid land—as fine as any in the colony—open to selection. A mere strip that has been roughly cleared yielded at the rate of from 36 bushels to 40 bushels of wheat to the acre. Only a small portion of the creek is said to be taken up, while thousands of acres romain in the hands of the Crown. A great deal has been surveyed for the purpose of being put up to auction.

THE PAW-PAW TREE.-A very succe THE PAW-PAW TREE.—A very successful attempt to cultivate the paw-paw tree a species of fruit which grows most luxuriantly in Northern Queensland and the Fijian group) has been made by Mr. J. W. Lindt, of Graften. Some fifteen menths ago Mr. Lindt (says the Argus) received a few small plants from Queensland, and he has succeeded in rewing them, and they have now attained the height of some fifteen feet. This season they are bearing, and we lately saw one of the fruit nearly ripe. We understand that this tree is not difficult to cultivate, and if one introduced into the district it would become of some conservate value.

THE ILLAWARRA AND JERVIS BAY RAILWAY.—The Shealhaven Nexa of Saturday last says:—For some time past, there have been ramours current in Shealhaven of a number of Molbourne capitalists forming a company for the purpose of opening up the coal-fields of this district, and constructing a line of railway from the mines to Jervis Bay, and thus open up a market in Victoria not only for our coal deposits, but for our extensive maise crops—two articles of every day consumption which the colony of Victoria fails to supply its inhabitants. A gentleman came over from Melbourne some months ago on behalf of the promoters of the proposed company, for the purpose of inspecting the numerous coal seams in the district, as also the country between them and the Bay, and, while here, obtained considerable information as to the exports and imports of Shealhaven, and it adjacent districts. It is understood that some thousands of screes of land along the line of the coal deposits have been leased by Mr. Henry Parkes, and other leading Sydney capitalists and gentlemen of induence, which are to be transferred to the contemplated company, who, if the present New South Wales Government do not clash with them by constructing the proposed "Metropolitan and illawarra Railway," we are informed, intend to take immediate action towards carrying out the works as above indicated; so that if the present proposed of the Government to construct the line to Woldengong is frustrated, we, in Shoathaven, stand a much better chance of seeing the Jervis Bay Railway an accomplished fact soomer than many suppore.

to where they were feeding, the buzz and hum concount upon their taking flight made one almost believe that it was the whift of some vast machinery. This extraordinary increase of insect life is more remarkable from the fact that during the last three years the insect life has been very small in our bush. The flowers upon which the greater part of our insects feed are commonly known as the scrub and tree apple blossom, and the bush in some perticular spots has been like fields of snow. As the burning sun poured down upon the flowers, and the myriads of insects feeding upon them, their dazding colours were brilliant in the extreme. We understand that Mr. Bray intends sending the greater part of this season's collection to Philadelphia, for the purpose of giving an idea of the variety and vastness of insect life to be caught near our city.

BLONDIN.—The Chevalier, yesterday evening, in recognition of the Outer Domain having been allowed him for the erection of his enclosure, gave a benefit to the various public charities, it being announced as his last appearance. He went through a number of his eleverest and most daring performance, including (besides his first entry as a knight in armour) standing on his head on the rope, tying at full length on it, walking along it blindfold and muffled in a bag, perambulating it in fetters and with his feet in baskets, and wheeling a dummy man in a barrow. All of these were executed with wondrons facility; and a curious proof of the confidence of the public in his skill was their failure to be moved by his pretended "hair-breadth "scapes." When he proceeded to blindfold himself and put on the bag they laughed heartily, and when in this attire he feigned to stumble upon the rape, instead of being awe-stricken their merriment was immense. The final display of fireworks was gorgeous. M. Blondin was entirely concessed in the blaze of many-coloured fires, and he must have had to endure an intensity of heat. There was a great concourse of people, so that the sum to be handed over to the charities will be a handsome one.

the fact of the colors of the

sydney eventually by: a rather circuitous route. The soil is uniformly sandy all over the two watersheds, the soil of the sind being beautifully fine and white—admirably adapted for filtering purposes—and varying in depth from a few fect down to seventy or eighty. This sand, it is said, acts as a sponge to hold the water, which gradually percolates through into hollows, where it is kept back by the dams that have been constructed, and is then allowed to flow on, as required, to the tunnel on the one hand, or the pumps at Botany on the other. Much has been said about the pollution of the Sydney watershed, and doubtless this is a matter that requires serious attention, for however abundant the supply of water might be, the value of it would be very small if the quality were indifferent. It would have been wise if the authorities had in the first instance so reserved the land that no houses could have been built on the watershed from which there would be any drainage to pollute the water; but this has not been done, and therefore measures are imperatively required to convey all deleterious matters away from the water supply. A good deal has been done in this direction already, but still there is plenty more to be done. The oftensive sheep quarantine station, which should never have been placed in so out-oft-the-ways a spot, has been removed. The drainage from the houses in the Moore Park Road has been intercepted, and is now conveyed by means of earthenware pipes into an adjacent swamp, where it cannot possibly contaminate the water in the tunnel. The drainage from the Barracks has been treated in the same way. Perhaps the worst muisance is yet to be dealt with—the drainage from the Barracks has been treated in the same way. No. 6, or Cuts' dam, is almost at the back of the Halfway House Hotel on the Randwick Road, and a weir allows the surplus water to escape from this reservoir into the Randwick pond, on the other watershed. There is also a communication with No. 7, or Fenswick's dam, the last of the series, and which conveys the water up to the tunnel's mouth. The storage capacity of No. 6 is six million gallona, and No. 7 is able to contain fifteen and a quarier million. it wise shown that any Commissioner had quartered himself on a squaster he would vote for his instant dismissai. Now, although in these degenerate days people are, aniortunately, apt to gauge the value of a man's public utterances more from an estimate of his own private character than his position as a legislator, there is something truly melancholy in such a statement coming from a Minister of the Crown.

In the first place, it directly throws a broad insimuation on the character of the Commissioner; and, secondly, foments in the most palpable and obnoxious manner the integonism existing betwirt the selector and the Crown tenant (accusing the latter of bribery)—an antagonism which has been engendered far more by the mouthings of political adventurer than by actual differences existing betwirt the two classes themselves.

This debate, however, has not, been without its affects.

tenant (accusing the latter of bribery)—an antagonism which has been engendered far more by the mouthings of political adventurers than by actual differences existing betwixt the two classes themselves.

This debate, however, has not been without its effects. A circular has been addressed by the Minister for Lands to all commissioners and inspectors of free selections, forbidding them, under any circumstances, when on duty, "to accept the hospitality of any person whatever." If this regulation is to be carried out in its integrity, it amounts to this, that all inspectors and commissioners must be provided with an equipment similar to surveyors, and that they must camp out on their travels. Way-side publicans, keepers of wine-shops and accommodation-houses in the bush are almost to a man conditional purchasers, and hence any intercourse with them is open to as much suspicion as with other folks. The chances of corruption are equal in any case so long as the party under whose roof the official stops is under the operation of the Land Act. If the Commissioners or their subordinates are cupable of being tampered with in the exercise of their duties, this restriction is now likely to make them housest. There are a theusand and one ways of corrupting a man other than entertaining him under one's roof. A cheque through the post-office would, in most cases, work out the object better than a good dinner. Virtually the circular effects no practical benefit whatever, and may be summed up in doing simply fils—insulting the officer to whom it is addressed, by expressing no confidence in him, and subjecting him to a very great amount of hardship and personal inconvenience on his travels.

It may be reasonably argued that what is true, so far as land commissioners and their inspectors are concerned, is true also in the cases of judges of courts of law, poblic magistrates, mining wardens, and Crown land commissioners and their inspectors are concerned, is true disc in the case of judges of courts of law, poblic magistrates, mi

MINING REPORT.

Stan of Peace G. M. Co.—Under date lat January the mining manager reports as follows.—"The vein in the south stope, at the 450-feet level, is small and poor. At this level north the vein is 9 inches wide, and producing good stone. We have eight men working in Moyers's ground, at the 433-feet level; the vein is opening out in size, and showing a little gold. The stope in the back of the 244-feet level is not looking quite so well, the vein being much smaller, although large in the adjoining claim. Sievens: "We have commenced stoping north and south at the 150-levels, the vein at present small. Mathewson's: The rise in the back of the 380-feet level has been communicated with the winze in the bottom of the 330-feet level; this has given good ventilation, and will enable us now to stope out the vein, which shows payable stone. Quantity of stone at surface in the Star of Peace, 40 tons; Mathewson's, 15 tons."

A SUBJECT FOR "SPECIAL PRAYER."

A SUBJECT FOR "SPECIAL PRAYER."

To Menners of the Church of England.

(Per facour of the Heraid.)

A RECENT advertisement has apprised us of the intention of the clergy, with the approval of the Bishop of Sydney, to hold a week of special prayer in and about Sydney. We have not, however, been informed as to what the subjects of these special services are to be. At the risk, therefore, of finding my suggestion anticipated and provided for, I would, in all humility, venture to hope that "a special prayer" may be offered on behalf of the clergy themselves, that they may be strengthened and enabled to do what it is clearly their duty to do, from the highest to the lowest, namely, obey the instructions laid down for their guidance in the Prayer-book. Then let us hope that one result of such special prayer will be the opening of our result of such appeal prayer will be the opening of ou-churches morning and evening for daily prayer, persever since in which will go far to reader unnecessary in future "A WEEK OF SPECIAL PRAYER."

LEATHER MANUFACTURE.

LEATHER MANUFACTURE.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE REFALD.

Sch.,—Will you, or some of your readers, do me the kindness to answer the following question:—

Will persons engaged in the manufacture of leather, now and hereafter, be subject to lose their all, in fact be ruined, if it should become necessary to have their plant removed, it being in the way of the public requirements, say for a road, railway, or for water supply to the city?

The "manufacture of leather" is now a matter of importance to many persons. It is giving employment to hundreds of hands, it is becoming a large article of export, and this colony is peculiarly adapted to its manufacture, hence the necessity of those engaged in it to know the position they stand in. I may state that a "mannery" plant is utterly useless for any other purpose, nor can it be removed, although it may involve indobtedness by mortgage, as many undertakings do, the plant constituting the value. The ground on which it stands may not be of "value" sufficient to cover the loss. I need not predict the consequences. This state of shings may be free trade; it certainly is not protection.

DURHAM BULLS for SALE.

DURHAM BULLS for SALE.

MESSRS. G. M. PITT and SON have the honour to inform the public that the annual sale of the above C ompany's Bulls will take place at Warrah, near Murrurundi, N. S. W., on WEDNESDAY, the 5th day of January, 1876, on which day 200 (more or less) young bulls, from 12 months to 24 years old, all bred by the company, and out of their choicest cows, will be offered for sale without the slightest reserve.

G. M. Pitt and Son are authorised to state that these young bulls comprise all that the company have reared since the sale which was held in January last, and are not only the largest, but, as regards, breeding, colour, and quality, by far the best lot the company have ever offered to the public. None of them have ever been housed or artificially fed, and they are only in rough bush condition, although in excellent fettle both for travelling and service. The bulls may be seen at Warmsh at once, and all further particulars learned on application to Mr. SAMURL A. CRAIK, Warrah, via Murrurundi.

N.B.—Buyers can depend on the bulls being in good condition and large and well-grown.

Intending purchasers cun proceed from Sydney to Newcastle, and from thence to Murrurundi per train; and conveyance can be had from the latter place to Warrah, which is only distant 16 miles.

Luncheon will be provided on day of sale.

DOWDEN, MILLS, and GORDON are directed to sell by auction, at the LAND SALE ROOMS, 154, Pitt-street, as THURSDAY, the 6th January, at half-past 11 o'clock.

A compact little PROPERTY at SHEBWOOD, adjoining the estate of A. T. Holroyd, Esquence and a half mile from the FAIRFIELD RAILWAY STATION, at the junction of the SMITHFIELD and Fairfield Reads.

This portion of the celebrated Sherwood Estate contains 10 scres 2 roots, well fanced in, subdivided into an OECHARD of SIX ACRES, containing 290 ORANGE TREES, commencing to bear; 290 orange and LEMON TREES, from two to three years old; 120 SUMMER FRUIT TREES and 500 bearing VINES, all of CHOICE varieties—the grapes chiefly for table use. One scree contains 200 orange trees one year old.

The soil is good, water plentiful.

A 4-roomed cottage of hardwood, weatherboarded in front, has been recently creeted. There is also another building, used as a dwelling before the cottage was built. This is a DESIRABLE PROPERTY for an industrious man with some knowledge of farming, gardening, and maising trees in a nursery.

The Auctioneers, from a personal knowledge of the property, can give any further information that may be required, and CARDS to view it may be had on application at the Office, 164, Pitt-street, where a plan of the Sher-wood Estate can be seen. LEASEHOLD PROPERTIES.

ion at the Rooms, Filt-street, on Filter 1, some saminary, at 11 o'clock,

LOT 1.—Corner allotment, has the following frontages:

—30 feet 7 inches to Alfred-street, Circular Quay, and 97 feet to Pitt and Henrietta streets.

LOTS 2 to 10 have each 20 feet frontages to Alfred-street, facing the Quay, with depth of 70 feet catending to Henrietta-street.

LOT 11—Corner allotment, 20 feet to Alfred-street, 70 feet to Arbitation-street, 20 feet to Henrietta-street.

LOTS 12 to 20 have each 21 feet and upwards to Arbitation-street, extending back to a 20-feet lane at the rear.

LOTS 21 to 25 each have 20 feet and upwards to Henri-etta-street, extending to Reiby-lane at the rear. etta-street, extending to Reiby-lane at the rear.

The above are the only sites that can now be obtained at the Circular Quey, and the position for mercantile purposes is unequalled in the city.

On the completion of the great improvements at the Quey, new to be immediately commenced, which will more than quadruple the shipping accommodation, these allotments will be immensely enhanced in value, and the special attention of capitalist, merchants, warehousemen, and others is directed to this very favourable opportunity for securing sites only about 100 feet distant, by a perfectly level approach from the abjet side at the wharf.

There is now no doubt that the proposed railway extension from the Rediers station to the Circular Quay will be carried out during the year. This much called for work will favourably and most materially affect the value of all property in the locality, and more especially that now offered, as the terminus must be either on or in close proximity to the land.

Plan on view at the Rooms.

Terms liberal.
